

Privacy policy

Tamohara Investment Managers Private Limited ("Tamohara") is committed to protect privacy of its investor/customer/user and keeping the financial & personal information safe and secure.

Tamohara may make use of personally identifiable information to operate the sites & services and to inform you of new features, services, and products/strategy from Tamohara. Tamohara has taken all due care to protect the confidentiality of the investor/customer/user information and its transmission through internet/world wide web. All safeguards are in place to protect confidential information from loss or theft, misuse, copying, unauthorised access etc. Tamohara shall not disclose any confidential information of Investor/customer/user except (i) as required by law or regulation (ii) to protect the personal safety of users, Tamohara site, its owners, or the public or for any other purpose as may be necessary in this regard. In case of any information shared with service providers or agents in another country, Tamohara will ensure that the same level of protection with respect to the information is applied in that country by service provider or agent as applied by Tamohara in India.

The website www.tamohara.net may contain links to other websites . Tamohara is not responsible for the contents or privacy practices of such websites.